LONDON, June 11.—Suffragettes today exploded a bomb under the coronation chair in Westminster Abbey. It is reported that the historic stone of Scone was chipped, but that otherwise no serious damage was wrought.

Two women were captured by the police after the explosion as they were trying to leave Westminster Abbey, but it was not certain that they were concerned in the outrage. There were two explosions in the abbey, one, evidently premature, having occurred in the chapel of Edward the Confessor.

Chair Not Wrecked
The stone of Scone probably broke the force of the explosion under the coronation chair, as the chair itself was only slightly injured.

The stone of Scone is the most famous relic of pre-historic days in the British empire. Its origin is lost in antiquity, but history reaches back to show that it sat Malcolm Canmore, an almost mythical king of the Picts, when he was invested with the crown. For centuries the stone furnished a throne for Scottish kings on the day of their coronation. It remained in Scotland until captured by Edward the First of England and taken to London.

Caused Wallace Revolt
Desperate resentment by the Scottish nation at their deprivation of a relic they held sacred was in great measure the cause of the uprising of William Wallace, the Scottish hero, and the crushing defeat suffered by the English at the battle of Bannockburn, when Robert the Bruce riveted on his head the crown of Scotland. Even since Bruce's day Scotland sought to recover the famous stone boulder. But it had been incorporated into the coronation chair of the English kings and could not be recovered. It was specially mentioned in the act of union between Scotland and England and under the law no British king can reign unless he is crowned upon the sacred stone.

Stirs Parliament Explosion of the bomb used in the attempt to wreck the Scone relic and the coronation chair was heard in parliament and caused a great sensation. Many believed that an attempt had been made to blow up the house of commons. When news of the attempt reached the city excitement was great and the suffragettes were unhappily denounced.

It was believed the tide of public opinion, already running against the suffragettes, would demand the most severe punishment if such outrages as that of today continue.

RUMOR THAT LOCAL WOMAN INHERITED IMMENSE FORTUNE

That Mrs. John Fuchsel, wife of a painter, residing at 1108
South Seventh street, was made the sole beneficiary in the will of a Minneapolis multi-millionaire by whom she had been employed, is the weird story being told about La Crosse today.

That the Fuchsel, "on advice of attorney," have fled to the farm of J. J. Smith, R. F. D., No. 1, near Brownsville, to escape publicity over their sudden good fortune is claimed.

Attempts today to verify the story proved futile. The Fuchsel could not be reached at Brownsville, the storm of yesterday putting telephone wires out of commission.

The name of the alleged millionaire could not be learned.
John Bott, assistant yardmaster at the Gund Brewing Co., a relative of the Fuchsel, today said he had heard the story but said he had been told to "keep it quiet."

It is also claimed that a prominent Minneapolis lawyer, representing the estate, was in the city several times recently. This could not be verified.

The story is branded as a hoax by many.

WANT BETTER MEMORIAL DAY Urge that Other Activities on May 30 Be Dropped in the Future

MADISON, Wis., June 11.—After a long business session in the assembly chamber this morning, Samuel A. Cook of Neenah was elected commander of the department of Wisconsin of the Grand Army of the Republic.

When it became evident that W.
J. McKay of Madison could not win the election, he moved that the nomination of Mr. Cook be made unanimous, and this was done.

A movement to retain the character of Memorial day was made by the organization here this morning.
The G. A. R. passed a resolution appealing to the postmaster general to lend his aid to the movement in retaining May 30 as a day set apart to honor the men who gave their lives for their country by changing the custom of the rural carriers of holding their annual conventions on Memorial day.

Another resolution was added asking that all organizations which hold annual conventions select some other day than Memorial day. These resolutions were also adopted by the Sons of Veterans and the W. R. C.

The state was also asked to set some other date than May 30 for the opening of the fishing season.

The encampment will close with the big camp fire in the university gymnasium tonight. This is expected to be the largest meeting of the convention. Commander in Chief Washington Gardner will speak and there will be a number of addresses by other veterans.

SMALLPOX VICTIM TRAVELS
RACINE, Wis., June 11.—Arthur Peterson, a farmer boy bound from South Dakota to visit relatives in Racine, exposed hundreds of persons to smallpox, which he contracted on a train. He left the train at Union Grove, and went to a doctor, who said that he thought the boy had smallpox, and sent him on to Racine, via train. Arriving in Racine, Peterson was immediately placed in an isolation hospital.

WORK ON WHITE WAY TO THE RIVER IS STARTED

Work has been started on the last lap of the White Way, from the river to Third street. Men were working yesterday, breaking the concrete on the sidewalk and doing work necessary before putting the posts in.

With the White way extending from Sixth street down to the river the plan of N. M. Scott, chairman of the decoration committee, will be completed. Mr. Scott personally secured the co-operation of the merchants and pushed the project to a successful completion.

The general appearance of Main street will be greatly improved by this new addition, according to the beliefs of the business men.

Another letter from an "old timer" follows:

and progress of the place we still call "home."

COMMISSION TO CONDUCT EXAMS

Applicants to Go Through Tests Prescribed for Male Members of the Force;
On Tonight

MUST TELL THEIR REAL AGE

Candidates Must Be 5 Feet 9 Inches Tall and Weigh at Least 155 Pounds
Is the Rule

La Crosse's new policeman will have to submit to the same examinations as are conducted by the police and fire commission for male members of the force.

Among other things she must weigh 155 pounds; must be 5 feet 9 inches tall; must be a legal voter; must be temperate and industrious—this last to be certified by two reputable citizens—must know the location of streets and public buildings.

She must submit to examinations as to her physical strength and activity and to a medical examination by a physician.

"Oh, yes, girls! She must tell her age."
She can't be under 21 or over 35 years of age.

Miss Amanda Clement, physical director at the Young Woman's Christian association, may be induced to become an applicant for the office of police matron.

Representatives of the women's clubs, and others familiar with her work in the "Y. W.," are strongly urging Miss Clement as the best possible choice for the position.

Mayor Ori J. Sorenson, when asked about the matter today, said that the name of Miss Clement had been pressed upon him by the women who are working for a matron.

"I know little of Miss Clement, personally," said the mayor. "She is highly recommended by the women who have interested themselves in the subject. The matter of a choice is not within my province. Applicants must pass an examination by the police commission, and show the qualifications demanded by the board.
I understand there will be at least one other applicant."

L. C. Colman, secretary of the police commission, said today that the usual method will have to be pursued, that applicants will pass an examination given by the commission, that of those who are successful a list of the highest in standing will be certified to the chief of police, who will then make the appointment.

The name of Mrs. Clara Evans, formerly connected with the "Y. W.," is also being discussed at the city hall.

MRS. NELLIE RYAN
GIVES TESTIMONY

Says She Heard Alcorn and His Pal, Simpson, Talking Over the Theft

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 11.—Geo.
Alcorn, the squatter owner of a large portion of Stony Point island in the Mississippi river, and Leon Simpson were on trial yesterday in United States district court on a charge of stealing fifteen sacks of flour from a sealed car September 18 last.

Mrs. Nellie Ryan testified that she heard Alcorn and Simpson talking of the theft.

John Nagle, a visitor at Stony Point island in September, was the principal witness for the government.
He testified that he accompanied Alcorn and Simpson to the car near River Junction on the night they are alleged to have stolen the flour. He said the men took fifteen sacks from the car and that the flour was conveyed in a boat to the island.

Up to Jury
The taking of testimony in the Alcorn case was completed at St.
Paul this afternoon and attorneys are arguing to the jury.

MORRIS PRAISES VETERANS OF WAR

Lieutenant Governor Chief
Speaker Before G. A. R.
Encampment at Madi-

JUDGMENT OF MASSES THE BEST

People Know More Than Counsels of Monarchy;
He Declares; Veterans
Enthusiastic

MADISON, Wis., June 11.—On the same grounds where some 70,000 Wisconsin soldiers drilled in the early sixties, were seen late yesterday the remnants of that army talking over the experiences of the early days. The old boys in blue, many infirm and weakened by age, entered the gates in columns of twos, led by a fife and drum corps, and marched to the hilltop.

Seated on the ground they listened to a stirring patriotic address by Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris, whose graphic picture of family sacrifices endured by those who left for the front made a deep impression on the large assemblage. Mr. Morris was presented by Voyta Wrabetz, commander of the Madison camp of Sons of Veterans.

Wisconsin Sends Many
Mr. Morris described Camp Randall as one of the most famous mobilization fields in the country. Here 70,000 Wisconsin boys were drilled for service at the front.

"In that time," he said, "the population of Wisconsin was about three-quarters of a million; and of the United States 30,000,000. The assessed valuation of all property in the state was less than one-half that of the city of Milwaukee alone today.
Wisconsin sent more than 90,000 men to the front. Of these, over 12,000 lost their lives—a little more than one-eighth. When we think of that army coming home 12,000 men short, we gain a concept of what the civil war meant to our state then."

What War Means
"Today we are strong and rich and powerful, and so I say that when we consider what sacrifices those days meant, we must draw on our imaginations and the most vivid imagination will give us but a faint idea of what the war really meant. We can appreciate in a vague way what the father must have thought as he crossed his threshold for the front, leaving his family to face want and despair for months, nay years; and what must have been in the minds of the mother as she saw her provider and one best friend march away to face the bullets and the hardships of war."

Mr. Morris said the civil war caused a greater loss of life than England ever sustained in her many wars. It was the greatest in all history, and greatest in a higher sense because it was fought for a principle and not for the purpose of subjugation nor for acquiring territory.

Tribunal Hoped For
"I hope the time is coming when wars will be less frequent," he continued. "I believe the time will come when international and civil disputes will be settled before the tribunal of reason and we will not have to resort to swords. I believe the judgment of the intelligent mass is better than the councils of monarchy.
No matter what the cause or occasion may be, however, once the die is cast and war declared, the man who won't shoulder his rifle and go to the front is not a true American citizen nor a real man anywhere."

Mr. Morris' eloquent tribute drew the closest attention throughout and he was besieged with the praise of enthusiastic listeners at the close.
Mr. Morris was the only speaker of the afternoon.

Music was provided by a band, and pork, hardtack and beans were served free to all veterans.

Campfire Address
Samuel A. Cook of Neenah, Col. J.
A. Watrous of Milwaukee and Commander C. H. Henry of Eau Claire, were the principal speakers at a campfire at the university gymnasium last night given by the Woman's Relief corps. Department President Mrs.
Agnes C. Gordon of Waupaca presided and Governor McGovern gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Cora M. Evans responded. A silk flag was presented to the Madison high school
by National Patriotic Instructor Sophie Strathearn and accepted by Principal Thomas Lloyd Jones. Prize essays were delivered by Madison school pupils and prize loyalty pins were presented by Department Patriotic Instructor Hattie Watson.
Musical numbers also were given.

Business and Parade
This morning was given over to business by the G. A. R. The annual parade formed this afternoon and marched around capitol square.
It formed on Monona avenue under the direction of Marshal H. L. Farr and aides. Military and civic bodies of the city joined in the march, which was one of the longest ever seen at a state encampment. Business sessions were resumed after the parade.
At this time an address was delivered by the national commander in chief, Washington Gardner. The department's annual campfire will be held at the gymnasium tonight, when Commander Gardner will deliver the main address.

DOHERTY ASKS FOR STATE CONVENTION

COMMITTEEMEN TO ISSUE CALL

Ten Members Who Favored Meet at Recent Meeting in Milwaukee Will Be Asked to Act

Attorney John F. Doherty, of La Crosse, today started the circulation here of petitions calling upon the ten members of the state central committee, who favored a convention when it was voted down at the recent meeting of the central committee in Milwaukee, to issue a call for a democratic convention to be held in Milwaukee June 30.

Thomas Kearney of Racine, democratic senatorial aspirant, today urged upon democrats the necessity and advisability of a convention and, says
Mr. Doherty, the convention was suggested to Mr. Kearney by himself.

"I think the convention essential," said Mr. Doherty today. "If it is held I will advocate, not only the framing of a platform but the putting up of an entire state ticket."

PAINTER SUES FOR HIS UNION SUES

Barnes Brings Suit Against
A. & C. Johnson Company for Return of Pay Kept Back

Whether or not a company, which has contracted to employ union labor, can withhold a portion of an employee's pay to pay his initiation and dues in the local painters' union, is the question to be threshed out in a case before Justice Leonard Kleeber soon.

John Barnes went to work for the
A. and C. Johnson company. He was not a member of the union, but they claim, agreed to join.

The employers have an agreement with the local union to employ union labor. A new man wishing to work must join the union and the company, with his consent, it is claimed, holds out $1 a day from his pay.

Barnes worked ten days and quit.
He claims he changed his mind and wanted the "ten." The company refuses to pay it and the case, involving costs many times the amount in contest, will result.

Attorneys James Thompson is representing the company. F. H. Hartwell the painters' union and Wolfe & Wolfe the plaintiff.

Representative Ainey of Pennsylvania, one of the of the Wilson administration's Mexican policy, made this statement here today on his arrival enroute to Japan.

"There is really no reason to believe General Huerta connived in the assassination of President Madero.
Anyway, in the states he does control, he does not murder Americans. On the other hand, the American people would stand aghast at the atrocities of 'Pancho' Villa, if Secretary Bryan should publish the reports that fairly choke his office."

Weather Conditions

central states and has spread eastward to the middle and north Atlantic coast. The highest temperature reported this morning is 84 degrees at St. Louis. Maximum temperatures of 98 degrees was reported yesterday in Nebraska, Missouri, central and gulf states.

Showers and thunderstorms have occurred from Nebraska to North Dakota and eastward to the upper lake region. Rain is falling this morning in northeastern Kansas and South Dakota.

Showers are probable this afternoon or tonight. Friday will be generally fair with somewhat lower temperature in the morning.

STORM TOLL 125?

CHATHAM, N. B., June 11.—Varying reports reaching here today made it impossible to estimate accurately how many lives were lost in a storm which swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence and Calhoun bay last Friday. One report gave the number of fishermen who perished as 125. An estimate from Caracot said nineteen were known to have perished and many were unaccounted for.

NO CLUE TO MURDER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 11.—The body of an unidentified man taken from the upper Milwaukee river near the cement mills today furnished the police with an apparent murder case. The man had been stabbed seven times in the back and two large stones were tied to his neck.

To Clear Your Skin of Unsightly Fuzz

(Toilet Talks)
By having a small package of powdered delatone handy a woman can keep her skin free from hair or fuzz. To use, make a thick paste with some water and a little of the powder, then apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, and with it comes every trace of hair. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. Buying the delatone in a small, original package insures strength and purity.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Little Pig Who Was Stung.

Snook John Was a Spoiled Pig.

JACK and Evelyn had been to a party that afternoon and were quite tired and sleepy. But they wanted their story just as soon as daddy came upstairs.

"What in the world will I tell you about tonight?" asked daddy.

"Oh," laughed Jack, "you know you have a story ready for us! Now, haven't you, daddy?"

"Well, maybe I could think up one if I tried."

"I think you could," said Evelyn.

"If Evelyn thinks I can, too, I will have to tell a story about a little pig, for I know she is very fond of little pigs."

"There was once a very spoiled little pig named Snook John. He kept all his family busy attending to his wants, and they were many. I can assure you. He thought he was very delicate and that he mustn't overexert, so he made his family believe he was that way. In fact, after constant spoiling, he began to actually think he was a very fragile little pig. He imagined he had heart failure and indigestion and neuralgia."

"One day there was a party in the air. Great whisperings went about as to when and where the party should be and what they should do."

"Finally they decided that they would go to a nearby swamp where there was the most wonderful marshy ground to burrow in."

"And Snook John could not be persuaded to go, and he tried to make the others feel a little unhappy about going and leaving him. Of course they were used to his acting in such a way, but still it did spoil the fun a little bit to feel they were leaving Snook John all alone at home. They tried to make him go, but he said that he had such trouble with his heart that he wouldn't dare."

"I have to look after myself, as no one else cares whether I live or die," said Snook John in a whiny voice.

"That isn't true," said the others. "But we know you would feel better if you came."

"That shows you don't understand," said Snook John, trying to look abused.

"After they all had left Snook John saw, to his horror, a huge yellow jacket approaching him. The awful thing came nearer and nearer and then stung Snook John with such force that he screamed and screamed in pain.

"But it taught Snook John a lesson, for it was the first real pain he had ever had, and afterward he didn't make a fuss about imaginary pains."

WISCONSIN FARMERS HAVE GREAT WEALTH

Article Tells Where They Are Better than Farmers in Georgia and Also Why

MONEY IS KEPT IN THE STATE

Pedigreed Stock, Good Dairy Cows and Many Silos Mean Profit for the Wisconsin Man

MADISON, Wis., June 11.—The prosperity of Wisconsin contrasted with that of Georgia is the basis of a long article in The Home and Farmstead this month which explains the reason "why Wisconsin farmers are worth a billion and a half dollars today and are joyriding over the face of the earth in automobiles." Georgia is a trifle larger than Wisconsin.

"How then does it happen that Wisconsin farmers, in something like ninety years have been able to accumulate wealth amounting to nearly one and one-half billion dollars," says the article, "while Georgia farmers in one hundred eighty-two years have been able to accumulate wealth amounting to only five hundred and eighty million dollars?"

"Wisconsin has about two and one-half times as many cattle as Georgia, but they are worth six times as much." She has three and one-half times as many dairy cows, but they give six times as much milk.

"Wisconsin raises and sells six times as many calves and cattle, and her annual dairy products are eight times more valuable than Georgia's. The home raised milk supply in Wisconsin amounted to 196 gallons a year per inhabitant; in Georgia it was only 29 gallons. The butter produced, on the farms alone, amounted to 32 pounds per inhabitant; in Georgia it was only 14 pounds a year."

"Wisconsin in the census year raised 57,700 colts; Georgia only 7,300 colts. That is to say, we must buy some 27,000 work animals every year more than we raise. We send out of the state year by year some five million dollars for mules alone. Why? Well, mainly because farm tenants do not raise colts, as a rule. And two-thirds of our farms are cultivated by tenants."

"What System Does
"In the census year Wisconsin farmers had only a few more hogs than Georgia—about 26,000 more; but they were worth two and one-half times as much as our hogs, and they sold and slaughtered during the year nearly twice as many pigs. Our scrub pigs commonly produce two litters a year, often three—frequently from 30 to 40 pigs all told. We can easily produce pork in Georgia at 3 cents a pound. We just don't do it on a large scale, for the simple reason that ours is mainly a system of tenancy farming."

"Once upon a time Wisconsin was daffy with the all-wheat mania, and in the seventies her farmers nearly went into bankruptcy. Now her farm prosperity is bottomed upon diversified farming, mainly by owners, and man for man her farmers are worth four times as much as Georgia's farmers."

"The Wisconsin System
"Wisconsin's system of diversified farming means farm activities devoted to grains, hay and forage, tobacco, fruits, nuts and vegetables—potatoes, sugar beets, strawberries, cranberries and the like."

"It means abundant, well developed pastures, pedigreed workstock, big beef cattle, high bred dairy cows, registered pigs. It means silos without number and profitable dairy farming."

"It means winter cover crops, soils rich with humus, and reliance upon manures instead of artificial fertilizers. It means that the farmers produce home raised feed and foodstuffs in ample quantities, with surpluses for sale. It means a steady income of cash every week the whole year through."

"Here—in part—you have the reasons why Wisconsin farmers are worth a billion and a half of dollars today and are joyriding over the face of the earth in automobiles."

CHIEF NEAR DEATH WHEN AUTO WRECKS

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 11.—Speeding to a fire at the rate of 5 miles an hour, Fire Chief Thomas' automobile today crashed into a pile of planks at the foot of a deep ravine, somersaulted and was hurled into the midst of a group of Italian workmen. Borsese Verdo, 49, was struck by one of the flying planks and killed, but his comrades escaped uninjured.

Chief Thomas was thrown high in the air, but alighted on his feet and was uninjured. The fire did $10 damage.

RIDICULES HUMPHREY

WASHINGTON, June 11.—"I have carefully considered the case of Mr. Humphrey. There are marked symptoms of nostalgia but on the whole I think a cold towel the best remedy."

This was Secretary of Commerce Redfield's retort today to the speech of Congressman Humphrey of Washington, yesterday in which he charged Redfield with being a "spouter of twisted figures," and declared business was losing $1,000,000 an hour.

Redfield would not reply to the speech in detail, but it was intimated it would be fully answered on the floor of the house within the next few days.

It is hoped that some day somebody will invent a sensible hat for men, but when this happens probably nobody will buy one.

Short Story

FLATS AND FURNITURE

By CATHERINE COOPE.

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Marna dropped her weary head on her arms and sobbed. She was completely exhausted with her effort to make both ends meet, and her nerves were torn to shreds. There seemed to be no immediate chance for mending her nerves, since the need of necessity were even then pricking her painfully. If there were any way of getting out of the city and into the wonderful life-giving country for a short time, Marna felt that she could again go on with her writing and the struggle would seem less severe.

For a time her stories had sold rapidly and her pen had flown with inspirational swiftness across the pages, but even an inspired pen cannot go without cessation through months of monotonous grind. Marna realized that her stories were flat, with a lack of brilliance that even a lenient editor might not overlook.

Only by renting out her best sunny room to two women who were out during the day had Marna been able to pay for her small flat and for the furniture she had selected with so much joy. Without the five dollars a week which the renting of the best bedroom brought her, Marna could not possibly have eeked out a home life. Boarding houses were detestable to her, yet now, after one year of struggling, and the knowledge that she was practically tied down to the city because of her flat and its contents, she longed for the freedom that boarding would afford her.

"If I have to be tied down to this flat for another whole year I will lose my mind," she told herself, with a hysterical little laugh at her own weakness. "I feel now as if I could batter my beautiful rose-colored walls to pieces because they hide the world from me." Marna felt very much like a caged animal, but she knew that if she gave up her cage she would still have to pay for storing the furniture, and that she could not afford if she had to pay board at a summer hotel. Neither could she rent a town flat in the hot months.

In a desultory way she glanced through the advertisements with the faint hope that some one would want her flat. A wan smile flickered in her eyes and struggled to her lips. It was not often that Marna gave way to depression.

"Oh, I do believe this is my opportunity," she re-read an advertisement new to the column.

"Young man getting married and having small flat would store furniture for one year for use of same. Best care taken. References."

"Poor man," laughed Marna, "he is almost worse off than I am. He is in love, which I am not, and he has not the price of furniture. I do believe that would be a good scheme for me. It would save me storage money and surely a bride will take good care of my lovely things. Oh!" she drew a great anticipatory breath. "I can almost taste my freedom now! A whole year to go where I want to! Joy! I could write a story that would sell this minute for the very thought of it!"

She sat down without loss of time and sent a communication to the advertiser stating in a rough way the amount of furniture she had, its intrinsic and sentimental value and asking him to come in the evening and look it over. She wanted also to look him over, but that fact she did not put on paper.

When a decidedly good looking, bright eyed young man came to her door Marna was instantly relieved of the suspense she had been under during the hours since she had written her letter. Many doubts had assailed her, but they vanished with one glance into his honest gray-blue eyes.

"A man's a good deal of a chump to marry when he can't afford to buy furniture," Hugo Everett said with a laugh as Marna piloted him to her little sitting room.

"Not more of a chump than a girl is who buys furniture that she cannot afford to keep," Marna echoed his laugh and found herself thinking that the girl was rather fortunate who was to have this happy-go-lucky man for a husband.

"I know it will be possible for me to buy all the furniture I want in another year, and I want what I want and not what I could get just now," he added. "I say!" he exclaimed in admiration, "do you want to part with this cosy stuff? Won't those get awfully dirty?" He referred to the great soft chairs, with their covers of rose and apple blossom chintz.

Marna laughed at his masculine ignorance. "Those covers all go into the tub and wash," she told him, "and my hangings—the same. Also the ones in the bedrooms wash just like a handkerchief." She showed him two dainty rooms furnished in cottage style with rag rugs and flowered spreads. "And, yes—I do want to part with it all—for a time. I am desperate to get away from bondage of any kind. If you take this furniture for me I will be grateful for the remainder of my days." She laughed gaily. "Who knows! I may win fame and fortune by your helping hand."

"It wishes you all kind of luck," said Everett extending his hand. Marna put her own into it and before his clasp let it go the color had flamed into her cheeks. Everett turned his head swiftly away from her drooping lashes and spoke in an evenly modulated voice and completed the arrangements for the removal of Marna's furniture.

Before they parted for the year Everett asked Marna to let him see all the stories that might be published during that time. Too, be it known, that Marna's stories were of quantities rather than qualities—so far.

"I will be most interested," he laughed, "because you said once that I might help you to fame. I really think you have the light of inspiration in your eyes this minute."

Marna flushed deeply and turned away the telltale eyes. "Yes," she agreed, "I do feel inspired. When I find a beautiful little place in the country where there are hills and flowers I think—I will be quite happy."

But notwithstanding the hills and the flowers and the birds and the rippling streams of the country, Marna was not quite happy. Perhaps that is why her stories acquired a more human touch and made their editors read them with more than their accustomed interest. Marna tried to tell herself that it was her furniture and a home she longed for, but somehow an alert, happy, masculine face seemed always to lurk in that home, and by his side and sitting in her own chintz-covered chairs was a girl whom the man loved. Marna felt very lonesome when she pictured the happy couple occupying her furniture. She heard from time to time from Everett and his letters were reserved to the point of chilliness.

"His wife must have squeezed all the friendliness out of him," she decided, and realized that another month would give her back her home and its comforts. Marna had found her inspiration, had mended the jagged nerves and added fame to her name during the year of freedom. She was returning, a new being, to the city. She found herself highly nervous, however, when she had asked over the telephone for the apartment in which Everett lived. Her heart was beating rapidly and she hoped her voice would sound steady over the wire.

Hugo Everett himself answered the telephone. When he heard the soft, longed-for voice speaking to him it was his own tones that shook even through the ring of gladness.

"Can I come to see you tonight?" he asked swiftly. "At the note of indignation in Marna's voice he smiled. "But I am not married!" he quickly informed her. "I was jilted and it is the happiest thing that ever happened to me—except one!"

Later in the evening when Hugo had told Marna of the happiest thing that she had quite agreed that their meeting was without equal in the world of joy, she smiled softly up at him.

"I think you fell in love with my furniture," she said.

"Only because it was you, dear. I have pictured your sunny head leaning back against that rose chintz since the moment I saw you."

WHAT HERESY IS THIS?

From Resolutions adopted by the stalwart convention, La Crosse court house, May 21:

"We most emphatically protest against the reckless and expensive manner in which our state affairs have been for the past ten years and are now being administered."

Statement of Henry Freehoff, delegate to the stalwart convention, La Crosse court house, May 21, in an interview June 9:

"How many farmers would be willing to cut the road appropriations? Good roads are a boon to farmers and city men alike and yet their cost is one of the biggest items of state expense. It is true of the university, public schools and entire state government. If you want the best you have to pay for it."

INVESTIGATE THE WING DAM LEAK

Congressman James A. Frear's daring assault upon the pork barrel ingredient known as the "rivers and harbors bill," in which he makes plain the futility and waste of the now-you-see - 'em-on-this-side-now-on-that-wing-dam and damn-the-taxpayer policy that keeps fat jobs and swell contracts afloat on the Mississippi, is getting a hearing. In its issue of June 6 the Saturday Evening Post says:

Congress appropriates thirty-five or forty million dollars a year for improvement of rivers and harbors.

The bills are passed on the time-honored pork-barrel plan. That the expenditure involves huge waste of public funds, and that a considerable part of them is nothing better than graft in an especially obnoxious form, is commonly believed.

If it were generally accepted that such misuse of money derived from the general public obtained in any other field—say, in the railroad field—Congress would immediately order an investigation. Congressman Frear proposes in a concurrent resolution that the House shall order a thorough investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of river and harbor expenditures. An investigation by a body independent of Congress would be better, but the Interstate Commerce Commission is acceptable.

We feel warranted in assuring Congress that the public would like to know approximately how much of the hundred and fifty millions or upward that has been spent on river and harbor improvement in the last five years has resulted in any tangible public benefit, approximately how much has been wasted, and how much represents a form of political graft.

We say this without prejudice. A great part of the expenditure may have been quite justified by tangible public benefits resulting from it. The waste may be considerable. But people generally believe that an important portion of the hundred and fifty millions or upward is just a tapping of the public till for the benefit of individual Congressmen. Surely that circumstance requires an authoritative investigation. Congress commands extensive resources for investigating. Let it employ them in this case at home.

PERKINS... AND WHAT OF COL. T. R. DOUBTRIVER?

In a sweeping denunciation labeling George W. Perkins as an evangelist of the trusts who must be discarded if the bull moose party is to survive, Amos Pinchot, little brother of Gifford Pinchot, arch-conspirator with Perkins, Garfield and Roosevelt to assassinate the LaFollette presidential candidacy at its flood tide, when the chances had been tested and found good, in order to saddle the organization with ready-to-serve "T. R.", tells enough truth about Perkins to damn any man politically.

The peculiar thing about it is that the offenses of Perkins which have aroused Mr. Pinchot were committed during or prior to the Chicago Convention, the "lost trust plank" figuring, by innuendo, in the indictment.

And after all that Mr. Pinchot worked with Mr. Perkins, hand in glove—lo! these many months.

The question arises what, having read Mr. Perkins out of the bull moose party, Mr. Pinchot proposes to do with Mr. Roosevelt?

The colonel has openly and by silence endorsed everything Perkins stands for; he stood for election upon the platform from which Mr. Pinchot subtly says he "does not say that Perkins stole the missing anti-trust plank." He ("T. R."), since all that, boosted Perkins into the national bull moose chairmanship, the place of greatest power for good or evil.

Mr. Pinchot's tar brush has a wide sweep. The truth about Perkins, dollars and principles, is the truth about Roosevelt.

What is the use of sweeping only the corners, Mr. Pinchot? Clean house.

Answered.
The professor of economics was discoursing eloquently on the need of leadership in all things, and from the greatness of the leader he plunged into a discussion of the essentials to leadership. "And what," he exclaimed, "is the great characteristic of all born leaders, the first great essential to successful leadership?" He paused that the question and its import might be fully appreciated. "What is it?" he asked again.

A small voice, coming from the rear of the room, answered cheerfully, "Ready ability to satisfactorily explain what the other fellow says about you!"—Argonaut.

Criticism.
Criticism is a study by which men grow important and formidable at a very small expense.—Dr. Johnson.

The Canny Andy
As Herbert Corey tells it, he went to a dinner once where Andrew Carnegie was a guest.

"After the eating was over and the speech-making had started," said Corey, "Mr. Carnegie reached in his pocket for something and pulled out a handful of small change. A dime got away from him and fell on the floor, and at the first chance Mr. Carnegie got down under the table and looked for it."

"Did he find it?" asked one of the audience to whom Corey was narrating the incident.

"Did he find it?" echoed Corey. "He found fifteen cents!"

A Tip to Parsons
Could one but find their confessions, one is pretty certain that many of our old parsons had little aptitude for the making of sermons, and the Book of Homilies was found very useful.

On entering his pulpit one Sunday one parson fumbled considerably at the edge of a crack in the woodwork, then straightened himself as though making the best of a bad job. Mr. Paine had become much disturbed over some stomach difficulty and had decided to consult a noted specialist. Accordingly he was ushered into the office of the great physician, complaining that he felt badly right then.

"What did you have for lunch?" the doctor inquired.

Mr. Paine answered thoughtfully: "I had crabs en casserole, bisque soup, a little chicken, nut salad, ice cream, coffee, crackers and cheese."

The great physician gave him an X-ray look.

"You don't need a stomach specialist," he said. "You need a brain specialist. Twenty-five dollars, please."

The Great New Historical Romance

John O' Jamestown
By VAUGHN KESTER
Copyright, The Robbs-Merrill Company

After those long months of enforced idling on shipboard the sudden need of continued effort sent us each night to our hard beds on the ground with blistered hands and aching muscles, where we slept like dead men until the beating of the drum called us forth, sore and stiff, to begin a new day. From dawn until dark for three days together we heard nothing but the sound of axes and the crashing of mighty trees, mingled with the groaning of the sweating fellows who dragged up our stores from the ship; for we had neither horses nor cattle, so that all things had to be done by the main strength of men.

But the fourth day, being Sunday, brought us a respite from our heavy toil. As I heard the morning drum-beat, I quitted my tent. Few of the company were yet astir. The dew was glistening on the trembled grass and the birds sang in every tree; our campfires of the night before sent thin wisps of blue smoke high into the clear air. From beyond the woods came the murmur of the placid river, and from the ships moored to the shore the voices of the sailors as they went about their work of swabbing down the decks.

One by one our company stole from their tents and shelters, the watch was changed, and our fires rekindled. We idled over our breakfast until it was time to hear good Master Hunt preach. An old sail had been stretched between two trees, and here we gathered about him that first Sunday on shore: our soldiers with their muskets in their hands, and our gentlemen captains with their swords girt at their sides and their armour on their backs.

After he had read the lesson, Mr. Hunt stood up with the soft wind blowing about him and the great trees rustling overhead.

"My text this morning is from the first chapter of Joshua, the ninth verse: 'Be strong and of good courage, be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.'"

CHAPTER TWELVE
Under Captain Kendall's direction a barrier in the form of a half circle with the open side toward the river, had been built from the lopped boughs of trees; it was only fit to make an Indian bonfire withal, but it progressed no further than this, for we had outlasted all mistrust of the savages, who came silently from their fastness in the great forest, to gaze in stolid wonder at our labours. Some brought game or fish to barter with us, welcome additions to our somewhat meagre stores.

Improving the opportunity thus afforded him, goodly Mr. Hunt strove to gain a mastery of their language, that he might discourse to this poor naked people of the true religion, to an understanding of which he would fain have led them, for I doubt if in all the world there were anywhere greater heathens. Our captains, too, were desirous of perfecting themselves in the speech of the Indians, for gold and the South Seas ever haunted their dreams, and they judged that the savages must have knowledge of both. Thus we were divided betwixt love of God and mammon, with the greater inclination toward mammon.

Had there been naught for me to think of but the work in hand, I would have found those weeks on shore pleasant enough, no doubt, since never was there such a land, so perfect and unspoiled by man's tainting, with its profusion of flowers, its great and splendid trees, against which it seemed a sin almost to lift our axes. In this pleasant paradise, our president, Edward Wingfield soon relaxed the discipline that held the company together, the armed guards were withdrawn from about the camp, while our work was allowed to languish. I confess, in those mild days of early summer it was hard to believe we should ever have need for more than our tents and shelters of boughs.

Our gentlemen captains, with a few exceptions, set the remainder of us a poor example of industry, for we were not colonists in the sense men should be who go out to settle a new land, nor yet were we a military company; there was too little authority and too much equality; but the greatest folly of all was the Council's choice of a president. Master Wingfield was naught but a merchant adventurer eager for gain, and so conscious of his unfitness for his post that he put aside the digni-

Dolly: When my scalp is itchy I use a scalp and hair tonic which can be made at home for little cost by adding 1 ounce quinzoin (get from your drug store), to ½ pint alcohol, then ½ pint water. This gives you a full pint of a very superior tonic. Rubbing a little into the scalp twice a week quickly and permanently relieves irritation, overcomes dandruff and corrects faulty condition of the scalp. The continued use of quinzoin tonic restores the former lustre and soft fluff to faded, "stringy" hair and insures an abundant and beautiful growth.

Worried: Here is a harmless and highly satisfactory way to banish superfluous hairs: Make a paste with a little powdered delatone and water. Spread on hairy surface and in two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left smooth and hairless. Have a package of delatone handy and you can keep your skin free from ugly hairs.

Frances: When your eyes smart and ache, try this harmless and very excellent eye-remedy: Into 1 pint clear water put one ounce crystals. Dropping 2 or 3 drops of this in each eye relieves smart, strain or ache. It also strengthens tired muscles and banishes granulated lids. Using it restores the youthful sparkle and expression to dull, listless eyes.

Miserable: Here is a simple formula for relief from over-fatness and a genuine flesh-reducer: Into 1½ pints hot water dissolve 4 ounces parnotis. Take of this 1 tablespoonful 3 times a day. This parnotis treatment is gradual and positive in its action and does not require dieting or vigorous exercising. When the weight is sufficiently reduced the figure will be plump and the skin smooth and clear.

Niad: Here is a very fine lotion for cleansing and beautifying the skin: Dissolve 4 ounces spumax (from your druggist), in ½ pint witch hazel or hot water and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Apply to face, neck and arms and rub lightly until it vanishes. This is invisible and imparts an exquisite tint and velvety smoothness to the skin. The use of this spumax lotion will remove the oily, sallow, unhealthy color and add a touch of refined elegance to the daintiest complexion.

Mrs. A. T. B.: No woman who prizes her hair will use soap, which, because of its very nature, makes the hair streaky, brittle and unmanageable. Try canthrox—just dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and rub briskly as you pour it on the hair and scalp. This makes an abundance of rich, gleaming lather that is very soothing to tender, itchy scalps. Rinsing leaves the scalp immaculately clean, and each strand of hair will be soft, shimmering and full of health. Canthrox shampoos are splendid for correcting unnatural conditions—excessive oiliness, dryness or profuse dandruff.

Julia: The pimply, blotchy condition of your skin is due to accumulated poisons. Take the following old-fashioned blood-cleanser and body-builder and this unsightliness will vanish: Into ½ pint alcohol put 1 ounce karden (which you get from the drug store), and ½ cupful sugar, then add hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful 3 times a day is the dose. This tonic acts gently on the organs of elimination and thus increases your appetite and assists you to get the full strengthening value of your food and tones the entire system and fortifies it against disease.

Mrs. Jack: Wrinkles and fine lines are easily removed with almozoin cream-jelly, prepared as follows: Into ½ pint water put 1 ounce almozoin and 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Let stand until entirely dissolved. Cleanse the skin and dry thoroughly before using. For wrinkles, apply freely and massage gently the long way of the creases. This treatment stimulates the stunted tissues and they soon resume their normal condition. When this is done the wrinkles or lines will have vanished. As a skin-cleanser and complexion rejuvenator an almozoin cream-jelly is not equalled, and its use not only restores the refined loveliness of youth, but protects it against the ravages of time.

ty of his office in his desire to achieve an easy popularity with the worst element in our company.

It was this element, with its cancer of greed, which was loudest in the complaint that, since we had come to search for gold in a land of treasure, it was a hurt to all our interests that any stop should be put to our efforts in that direction. Without hindrance from the president or his Council, many quitted their necessary toil to steal off and try the river sands for the precious metal, and by night around our camp fires there was endless discussion as to the true and infallible method of locating treasure. Especially were there murmurs when it was found that the sands yielded nothing but sore backs and aching arms, that we had not been more forward in our efforts to discover the South Seas.

The humour of company and Council could not have been in more complete accord on this point, for Wingfield was avaricious, John Martin was bitten in the same spot, whilst Ratcliffe and Kendall were broken gentlemen who looked to the adventure to mend their fortunes. I was not surprised after hearing all our campfire talk when Smith informed me he was ordered by the Council to join Captain Newport and some twenty others in an attempt to explore the river Powhatan to its source.

"You see, Farraday, though I am still a prisoner, our thrifty president is evidently not disposed to let me eat of the bread of idleness, which, unless he push forward the work of planting, may be the only bread we will any of us have to eat presently."

Smith had led the way to the shore, and we were pacing the sands at the water's edge. Through the skirting fringe of untouched timber and within the limits of Captain Kendall's famous barrier of lopped branches glowed the hot ruddy lights of our campfires, and as the flames leaped into the night the utter blackness of the forest beyond. Our company was making merry; the sound of their voices floated cat to us; now it was a burst of laughter or a snatch of some song that came to our ears.

The Effects of Opiates.
THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of

NORTH SIDE

READY TO GRADE
ST. ANDREWS ST.Matter Received Favorably by Council Reports Alderman Kempter to Progressive League

Prospects for the grading of St. Andrews street from Wall to Sumner streets, are favorable, according to the report tendered last night to the North Side Progressive league by Alderman A. R. Kempter. At a recent meeting of the council, the matter was introduced by Dr. Kempter and was received favorably. According to the report, the grade of the street has already been worked out by the city engineer, it being up to the city to proceed with the work.

As regards the placing of a fire hydrant at St. Cloud and Sumner streets for the protection of the ice houses of the Arctic Ice company, the council considered it impractical to place a hydrant there, as a fire would burn the hose. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

A patrolman will be placed on the north side in the place of Michael Britton as soon as the police and fire commission find a man eligible for the position. Britton was made desk sergeant at the central station when John Wendling was discharged. The commission meets tonight to fill vacancies in the force.

The meeting was closed with an ice cream feast, provided by Thomas Gibson.

Jobless Men

CALL ALREADY FOR 80,000 MEN

West Appeals for Harvesters and Iron Industry Becomes Very Active

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Menless jobs instead of jobless men, in the very immediate future throughout the United States, was predicted by Secretary of Labor Wilson in sizing up the labor outlook in a statement today. The bumper wheat crop, revival of the iron trade with the consequent stimulation of mining and other associated industries, and continued activity in the textile business are given by Wilson as his reasons for prophesying prosperity with "lots of work."

Specific requests for more than 80,000 men to help harvest bumper crops have already reached the department of labor. Missouri alone has asked for 30,000 men. How to get them west is the problem. As a solution Secretary Wilson is planning to negotiate with the railroads for special excursions to the wheat belt from eastern cities where the labor might be obtained.

"Whatever there is of non-employment to day," Secretary Wilson said, "is caused chiefly by the depression of the iron and steel industry, resulting from failure of the railroads, which use 51 per cent of the steel products of the country, to place orders."

Pinchot's Letter to Have No Effect on Perkins's Place in Party

NEW YORK, June 11.—"I have not the slightest intention of retiring as chairman of the executive committee of the progressive national committee," said George W. Perkins, in discussing Amos Pinchot's attack upon him before starting up the Hudson on a trip to the Interstate Park. Perkins had as his guests for the outing several New York park commissioners and their friends. The party sailed on the steamer Highlander.

"What Mr. Pinchot says cannot drive me out of the progressive party," Perkins continued. "I don't think Mr. Pinchot's letter will either help or hurt him. I don't think anything will happen as a result of the letter."

"Are you going to reply to Mr. Pinchot or to the national committee of the progressives?" Perkins was asked.

"No," he said. "Mr. Pinchot's letter is a mere expression of opinion."

The Canny Scot's Sense of Humor.

The reason a Scot does not laugh at a joke right away, says Dean Ramsay, is not, as is the popular fiction, that he is "slow in the uptake," but that the canny man will not commit himself. He must think it over before he donates the exact amount of laughter which the joke deserves. The Scot minister, who is Scotland's common public speaker, is aware, consciously or instinctively, of this trait, and his delivery of an anecdote with a point is a thing of unique art.

Weather and Science.

Old Zeb Hawkins sat on a log near the bridge one Sunday morning, casting anxious glances at an uncertain sky now and then. His willow fish pole and a can of bait lay at his feet. Before he had quite decided on the weather the minister came by, having taken a short cut owing to the fear of a sudden shower. "Well, Brudder Zeb, is you gwine to ch'ch or is you gwine fishin'?" he asked.

"Ah dunno yet," said Zeb. "Ah'm jest a wrastlin' wif ma conscience."

GIRL DISAPPEARS
FEAR KIDNAPING

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., June 11.—Frantic with fear that her fifteen year old daughter, pretty Leona Holland, has fallen a victim to white slavers, Mrs. Jessie Davis appealed today to the police of Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, and Imperial, Cal., for help vbqk cymfwy mfwytwy Cal. Leona left Imperial May 22, having bought a ticket routed through New Orleans and St. Louis over the Southern Pacific. She had completed her freshman year in the Imperial high school and had started home to visit her mother. The mother's fears were aroused when her daughter's trunk, which had been checked through, arrived several days ago, delayed in transit.

WOMEN DEMAND VOTE

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Encouraged by success of "white ribbons" enforcing a program for the house to vote on the Hobson natioln prohibition amendment before adjournment, woman suffrage leaders today launched a new campaign to add the Mondell woman suffrage constitutional amendment as a "rider" to the new legislative slate. Chairman Henry of the house rules committee offered little hope to the suffragettes, however, but admitted a special rule for a vote on the Mondell amendment "might be" considered.

RAYMOND HOULE SET FREE.

STURGEON BAY, Wis., June 11.—The police are still mystified over the death of Rose Felhoffer, whose body was found in the bay. Raymond Houle, the youth who was brought here from Escanaba, failed to throw any light on her fate and was released by the police today.

SCORE HURT IN WRECK

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 11.—A score of persons were injured when the fast Baltimore & Ohio Limited was ditched by an open switch twenty miles east of here early today. A panic occurred in a carload of insane old soldiers being taken from Dayton to the government hospital for the insane at Washington.

YOUR BLOOD

is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.

The Boehm Establishment Shows Its Wonderfully Clever Offering in East Store Window

"The Continental" has made a strong bid for first honors in a $20,000 prize distribution that is being made by the manufacturers of "Porosknit" undergarments. The first prize is $3,000 for the winning company and $750 for the trimmer; second, $2,000 and $500; third, $1,000 and $200. A glance over the east window of "The Continental," especially when illuminated in the evening, may give observers a "hunch" as to where the local entry will land.
The design submitted by "The Continental," which is the conception and a product of the craft of A. M. Roschilde, window trimmer at the Boehm store, is not only a marvel of artistic beauty, but conveys a message as definite as that which great sculptors and painters give the world through their masterpieces of stone and color.
The design is a "Court of Honor" to "Porosknit." The flowers are daisies, for summer comfort. The designer is a Scandinavian, and in his tongue one name for "daisy" means "a thousand joys," an idea which the artist has clearly woven into his metaphorical conception.
The design is classical, the marbles of various onyx colors, green predominating for its coolness. Models of "Porosknit," arranged about a central group, display the inviting quality of the garments, their coolness accentuated by a fiery censor borne by the central figures who, dressed in "Porosknit," suffer nothing from the artist's conception of the noonday sun which they carry.
The luxurious ease of "Porosknit" is suggested by a velvet carpet on the stairway; a running figure arrayed in "Porosknit" suggests the messenger of comfort; antique copper signs tell the virtues of the garments; the window floor is covered with a green plush imitation of a cooling, green lawn; a shield in the top center is the emblem of protection as given by "Porosknit."

The lazy, cool daisies, their roomily arranged petals suggesting cooling circulation, laid gracefully from pretty urns to drape the figures in the scene.
The whole effect is an epitome of the comfort and ease of "Porosknit" garments, stronger, clearer, more eloquent than the tongue of the most gifted orator could utter. With infinite art the designer has created an allegory so illuminating that the most casual observer must comprehend its message at a glance. Without question it is far and away the most clever bit of mercantile art ever seen in La Crosse, and it cannot fail to win a hearing with the judges of the contest.

SOCIETY

B. A. Y. GIVE EXCURSION
The Brotherhood of American Yeomen, gave a moonlight excursion on the barge Mississippi Monday evening, and considering the many postponements and short notice on which the excursion was given, a large crowd was present. The Yeomen will give another excursion in August.
The Yeomen held their regular meeting and dance Tuesday evening. Twenty new applications were presented. Owing to the intense heat only a few of the seventy-five candidates who had taken policies in May were present for adoption.
A committee was appointed to decorate the graves of deceased members June 21, Memorial day of the B. A. Yeomen.
After the meeting the Hackbart Yeomen orchestra furnished excellent music for dancing.

HIGH SCHOOL RECEPTION
About 250 members of the senior and sophomore classes attended the senior reception given by the sophomores yesterday evening at the high school annex. The evening was spent in dancing. The affair was entirely informal.
The hall was decorated much the same as for the junior prom. The ceiling of the gym was hidden by the leafy decorations which were strung on wires over the entire top of the room. Around the sides of the room Japanese lanterns were strung making a very pretty effect. The corners were made comfortable by divans piled high with pillows over which large electric fans were hung and made a cool retreat after having become heated up.

The orchestra was hidden behind a lattice screen which was covered with green grape vines, giving it the effect of an arbor under the trees from which the music came. A five piece orchestra furnished music.

LUNCHEON AT COUNTRY CLUB
Mrs. James McCord entertained a few friends today at the Country club, at a luncheon, to meet Mrs. T. H. Brindley, of Creswell, Ore., who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. McCord.

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA
Mrs. Oscar Hulberg and Miss Ida Miller entertained at a handsome tea this afternoon, in honor of their sister, Mrs. Archibald McFarland, of San Antonio, Texas, who is spending the summer here at the home of her father, Mr. August Miller. Mrs. Hulberg's pretty new home on Seventeenth street, was prettily decorated with marguerites, ferns and pink peonies. The assisting ladies were Mrs. Harry Watkins, Mrs. Edward Hulberg, Mrs. Max Burton and Mrs. D. C. Faber.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. August Lueck announce the engagement of their daughter Amanda to Henry A. Kroner. The wedding will take place June 30.

KRAUSE-WUENSCH
Mrs. Bertha Krause and Wenzel Wuensch were married last Tuesday evening at 1225 Jackson street, by the Rev. T. J. Gamm. There were thirty guests present, all intimate friends and relatives. The bride wore a becoming gown of gray. The only out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haymie of Madison.
Yesterday Mrs. Wuensch gave a coffee to twenty of her friends who had entertained for her before her marriage.

TECHMER-ZEISLER WEDDING
There was a pretty June wedding last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Techmer, Thirteenth and Jackson streets, when their daughter, Elsie Caroline, was united in marriage to Leonard A. Zeisler. Rev. T. J. Gamm, pastor of the German Lutheran church, performed the ceremony, which took place at 7 o'clock. Preceding the ceremony Miss Emma Zeisler sang "Beloved, it is Morn."

The bride was attended by Miss Louise Zeisler, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, while Erwin Techmer, brother of the bride, was best man.
The bride wore a gown of ivory white crepe meteor, with a lace tunic. She carried an arm bouquet of marguerites. The bridesmaid wore light blue silk voile, trimmed with handsome white lace. Her flowers were pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Zeisler received congratulations in front of a bank of ferns and palms. A wedding dinner was served, about twenty-five intimate friends and relatives being present. At the bridal table covers were laid for twelve. A large basket of ferns and marguerites was the central decoration, and roses and ferns were used on the other tables. Wild flowers were used in profusion in the various rooms, making a beautiful setting for the pretty summer gowns. Mr. and Mrs. Zeisler will reside in the city.
The assisting ladies were Mrs. H. Dimler, Miss Emma Zeisler and Miss Clara Miller.

SOCIAL BRIEFS
Mr. and Mrs. D. Cunningham returned yesterday from an extended eastern trip, having been absent a month. They visited Mr. and Mrs. John Gund at Lexington, Ky., where they were most hospitably entertained. From there they went to Louisville, Washington, Old Point Comfort and Pittsburg, where they saw Mr. and Mrs. Grant Coade, formerly of this city. They spent some time in New York, and then went to Northampton, Mass., where they saw their daughter, Miss Laura Cunningham, who is attending Smith college, and who will be at home the last of the week.
Mr. Alex Forbes has gone to Elkhorn, Wis., to spend a couple of weeks with relatives.
Mrs. F. J. Smith has returned from a two weeks' stay with friends at Albert Lea, Minn.
Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Thompson, Mt. Horeb, Wis., are visiting friends for a few days.

SHEER AND LACEY ARE THESE MID-SUMMER BRIDESMAIDS' FROCKS

As it is the mission of the bridesmaid to lend color and gaiety to the fete, her frock should be the very embodiment of youth and charm. This should not be difficult this season; materials are so sheer and designs so lovely.
Flowered chiffons, shadow laces and taffetas are perhaps the most favored of all materials for this purpose. Plain and flowered taffetas are combined with chiffon and lace and as illustrated in 8150, taffetas is often used to trim lace and chiffon frocks. This design is here developed in shadow lace flouncing which lends itself excellently to the tiered effect of the skirt. An underdress of the most delicate pink chiffon lends color to the frock and is repeated in the overblouse of taffetas. An odd, old fashioned looking, pinked ruching edges neck and sleeves of the overblouse and a bias strip of the taffetas, knotted simply in front completes the costume.
This design may be copied in size, 36, with 7½ yards of 22-inch flouncing and 3½ yards of 36-inch material for the underdress.
The long waisted effect of the second frock is one of the season's novelties; it is youthful to a degree and charmingly suited to the summer wedding. Here a flowered taffetas is combined with a plain taffetas in a delicate shade of Nile green; this color repeats the predominant tone in the flowers and the chiffon of the sleeves.
For a girl of 18, this design requires 4½ yards of 42-inch material.
Taffetas are wide and are priced from about $1.25 a yard and up.

POWER OF BREWERS IN PUBLIC OPINION

Green Bay Man Says Few Men Crush Merchant or Official Who Stands Against Them

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 11.—"The fact is," declared C. W. Lomas, in testifying before the vice commission "that the pressure of the brewers and saloonists is so strong here that it will crush any merchant who stands for reform. The same condition applies to jurymen or councilmen who votes for conviction of a liquor dealer charged with violating the law. Public opinion is really made by 300 or 400 men," he said.
The testimony of the cashier of the largest retail store showed that girls were paid a minimum wage of $3 a week. Wages average from $3 to $12. In the paper mill $1.50 a day is the average wage of girls.

In executive session last night girls employed in factories and department stores appeared before the committee chaperoned by a delegation of women social workers.
Joseph J. Taylor, former mayor of Green Bay, said he considered Saturday night dances the most dangerous source of evil.

BREEDERS ORGANIZE

FOND DU LAC, Wis., June 12.—Breeders of Jersey cows living in Fond du Lac and adjoining counties met today at the farm of F. H. Scribner and sons, to form the Fond du Lac County Jersey Breeders' association. The purpose of the society will be to advertise the Jersey cow and to band breeders of the type together for mutual benefit.

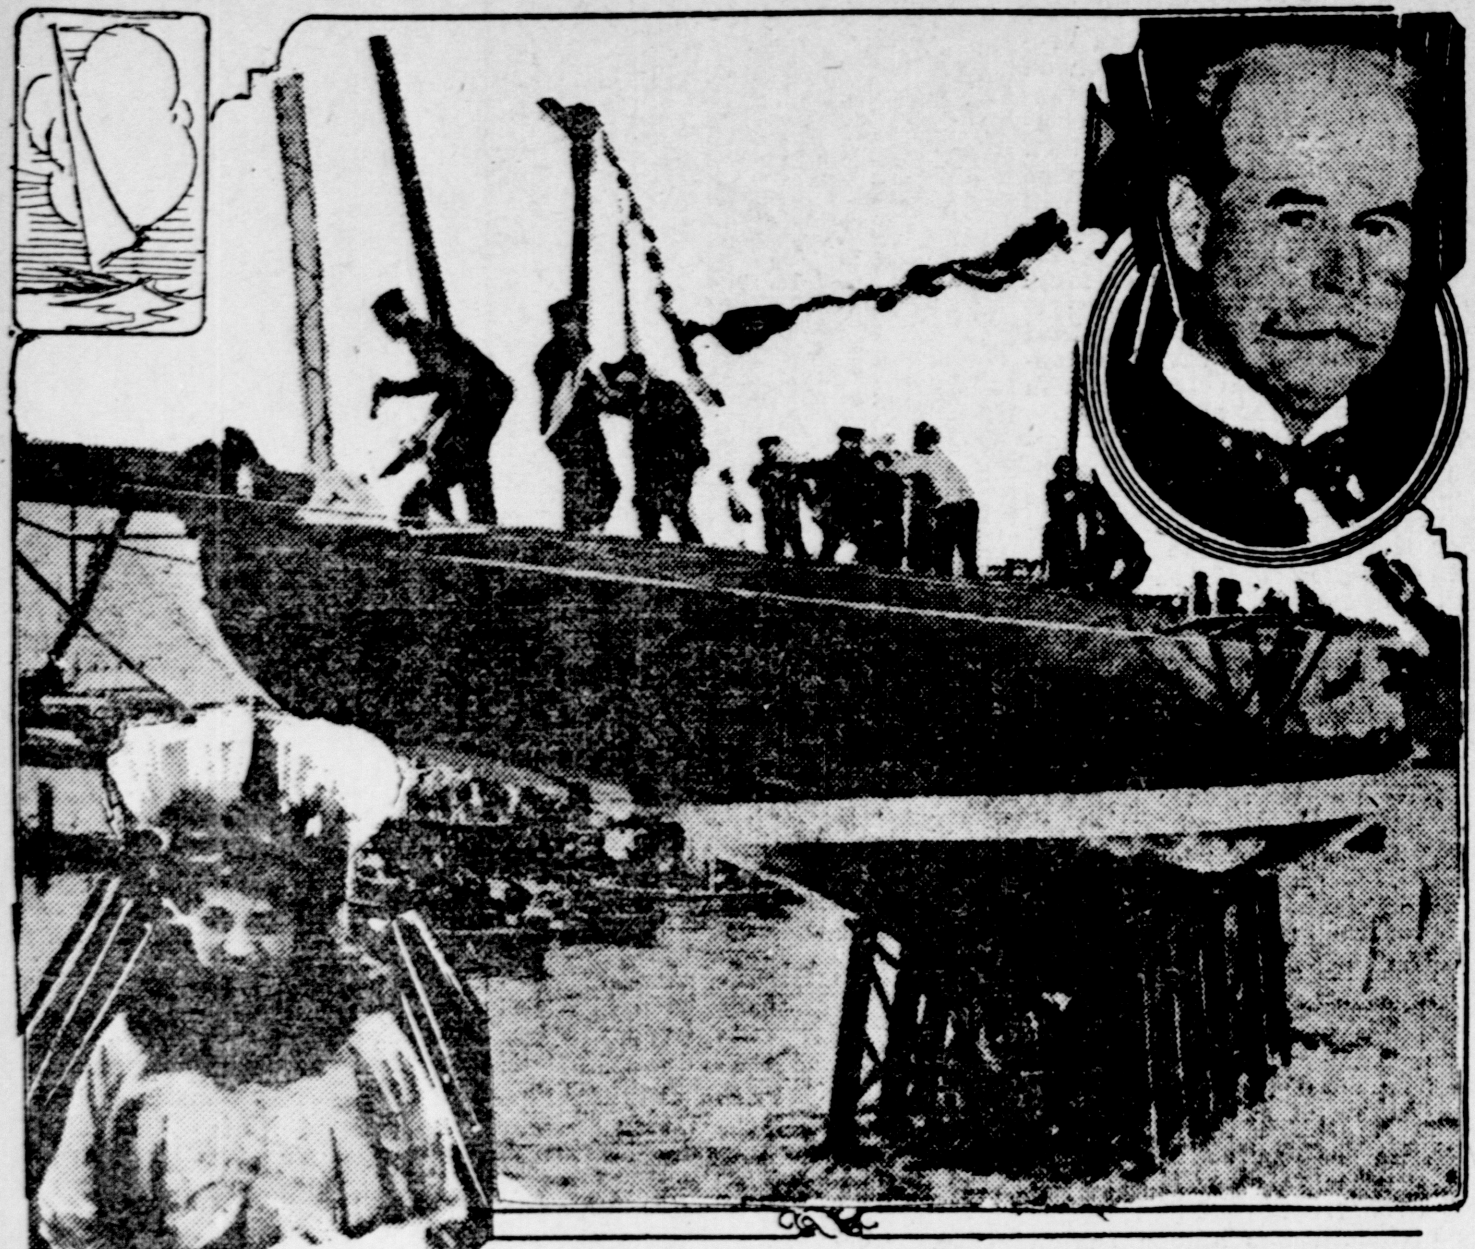

SHE CREATES A SENSATION IN PARIS

Mrs. Marjory Schaeffel.

Here's Mrs. Marjory Schaeffel of New York wearing that beautiful Parisian gown which was so much admired at the American ball in the Hotel Majestic, Paris, May 23. Mrs. Schaeffel was stopping at the Hotel Ritz until a few weeks ago, when she took up a private residence, for which she is paying at the rate of $20,000 a year. She will return to New York late this month.

LIPTON SACRIFICES CONVENTIONALITY AND BEAUTY FOR LONG, STRAIGHT LINES; SHAMROCK IV HAS SEVERAL NOVEL FEATURES

Scene at launching of Shamrock IV; her sponsor, the Countess of Shaftesbury, and her owner, Sir Thomas Lipton.

Conventionality and beauty are sacrificed for long, straight lines in Shamrock IV, the yacht Sir Thomas Lipton has built to race with America's cup defender this fall. The result is a form similar to the famous small scows raced on the American inland waters with the long fin keel added.

There are several features in the boat unlike those of any other large yacht. Her deck is higher near the mast than at the ends, in reversal of custom. The deck for two-thirds its length is narrower by about three feet than the hull just above the line of flotation. The boat when heeled will sail on straight lines for practically her whole length. This feature may be called the keynote of her design.

PROPOSES THAT SHE COME TO COURT IN DEBATED NEGLIGEE

NEW YORK, June 11.—Standing room only and little of that will be the situation in Superior Judge Donnelly's court here late today or tomorrow if a proposition made in the divorce case of Frank Poss, rich Detroitier, against his wife, Lillian, looks good to the judge. In behalf of Mrs. Poss, her attorney, George Gordon Battle, today proposed in court that Mrs. Poss appear before the jury in the identical garments she wore when Poss and his detectives broke into her apartment and found her there with Percy Thorn, co-respondent in the case.

This raiment, according to Poss, was scant enough to be evidence of wrong doing with Thorn. Mrs. Poss doesn't think it was. She was willing to leave it to the jury. Japanese kimono, silk "knickerbockers" and certain frilled lingerie was exhibited to the jury earlier in the case.

On the stand today Mrs. Poss confessed to 39 years. She denied that Thorn had ever kissed or hugged her, but she did admit that they frequently had tangled together.

WANT 1915 MEET TO BE HELD HERE

Local Eagles to Go After Next State Convention at the Gathering in Antigo

CHARLES DITTMAN FOR SECRETARY

Expect to Elect Secretary of the Local Aerie to State Office at the Coming Session

"La Crosse in 1915."

This is the slogan with which upwards of thirty Eagles, representing the local aerie, No. 1254, will descend upon the Antigo convention June 22 to 25. At a meeting of the aerie last night a delegation of 25 members was named to represent the local Eagles at the state convention. They will go to Antigo in a special car, leaving La Crosse Sunday night, June 21.

To Work for Convention The delegation and the official delegates of the local aerie to the convention last night received instructions to do everything in their power to bring the next state convention of the order to this city.

"If we get the 1915 convention," said Secretary Charles A. Dittman this morning, "it will mean that more than 10,000 people will be in the city for the gathering. At Marshallfield, last year, there was a parade of nearly that number, and that was the smallest convention we have had for years. Even at that, there were between three and four thousand uniformed men in line, representing the marching clubs of various aeries in the state, and thousands of visiting Eagles. There were twenty bands in the parade."

Dittman for Secretary

The La Crosse delegation hopes to procure the election of Mr. Dittman as state secretary of the Eagles, at the Antigo convention, to succeed John C. Nicholls. Mr. Dittman has been promised support from aeries from all parts of the state and so far as can be ascertained at present, there is no movement on foot to put forward a candidate against him.

An elaborate program has been arranged for the entertainment of visiting Eagles. The Menominee Indians have an encampment at Antigo during the convention, and one of the features of the four days will be a lacrosse game and a war dance.

At the Eagles' meeting last night the purchase of uniforms for the baseball team of the local aerie was authorized. It was announced that the team will make its debut June 20, when it meets the Lansing town nine.

CANADA CONFIRMS MINING OF TRACK

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Vera Cruz reports of mining the railroad to Mexico City were confirmed today in official dispatches from Consul Canada. He pointed out that there had been a number of wrecks on the line recently which were explained as due to "wash-outs." Canada, however, did not believe this explanation, and declared that the rebels were mining the road.

This action was believed in official circles here to meet an effort on the part of the constitutionalists to shut off means of escape for Huerta.

DENY LICENSES ASKED FOR LATE

Saloonmen Must File Application and Bond at the Close of Day's Business Monday, June 15

COUNCIL MEETS FIFTEEN NIGHTS

Beginning on June 15 Body Must Convene Nightly for Purpose of Considering Applications

Unless saloonkeepers file their application and bond for saloon license with the city clerk by Monday at the close of the day's business, they will be unable to open their places of business on July 1, according to the state law. The license committee intends to comply with the laws and saloonkeepers must file their applications on time or close up.

The law is plain and reads to the effect that all applications for liquor license must be filed with the city clerk fifteen days before they are granted. By filing them on next Monday the council may grant the licenses on June 30. After the filing of the applications the same must be published in a daily newspaper three successive times according to the law.

Up to this time only about one-third of the number of saloon licenses has been filed with the city clerk. Pool and billiard licenses must also be filed in time so they may be granted by the council before July 1.

Meet Fifteen Days Beginning June 15 the common council will convene nightly for fifteen days.

This is to consider applications for liquor licenses and is made imperative by the law. La Crosse aldermen forfeit $2.50 of their salary for every meeting they miss.

HULL ADVOCATES GREATER ECONOMY

be vetoed. The system of extensive lobbying for appropriations would then soon become obsolete."

Consolidate Commissions Saying that much of the increase in state expense in recent years is due to "excessive appropriations for new buildings and land purchases," Mr. Hull maintained there will be no need for further similar appropriations for years to come.

He advocates full investigation of boards and commissions with a view to eliminate and consolidate to cut expense. The expense of the state's large inspection service can be reduced, he claims, and advocates placing the number of state employees under the control of the legislature.

The candidate for governor favors shorter sessions of the legislature to insure maximum attendance. Maintaining that he favors liberal support for the state university, Mr. Hull contends that it should keep entirely out of politics.

On the university question, he says:

"The University of Wisconsin should be liberally supported. Its educational activity should not be limited. It should have all the freedom necessary to promote its purposes. But its activities should be confined to the field of education and research, and under no circumstances should it assume to be, or be presumed to be, in politics, particularly in partisan or factional politics."

Against Extravagance "Its appropriations should provide for a reasonable growth, but should not be on the extravagant plan of the last four years. Its management should be more economical. It should depend upon the confidence of the people for the liberality of appropriations, and not upon lobbying, and the needs of the other schools in our educational system should be given due consideration in making appropriations. Its affairs should be open to the widest publicity, the same as any other state institution."

Raise Foreign Tuition "The growth in the number of university students from outside the state has been far in excess of that of students from our own state. This increase is one reason for the rapid growth of its expenditures. There is no inclination to restrict the attendance of students from other states and foreign countries, which now number in excess of 2,200, but such students should be required to pay tuition equal to their cost to the state. The rights of Wisconsin taxpayers should be given just as much consideration as the rights of students from other states."

Better Law Enforcement Better enforcement of the laws already on the books with a tendency to enact only such legislation as is demanded by the people is also advocated in Mr. Hull's statement.

In playing for the votes of northern Wisconsin Mr. Hull advocates encouragement by the state to the movement to settle northern Wisconsin.

"The problem of improving our common schools to secure greater efficiency at minimum cost and make our schools conform to the practical needs of the communities is another in which such progress should be made as experience will justify."

All for Suffrage. The last vestige of stand-patism on the suffrage question had vanished from the biennial assembly of the General Federation of Women's Clubs today.

"Votes for women" leaders today pointed to the unprecedented demonstration that greeted Jane Adams' earnest appeal for woman suffrage at the formal opening of the convention last night. Suffrage enthusiasm fairly swept the audience of 4,000 women from their feet, and even the lukewarm, non-voting delegates were shouting "Votes for women" with the pro-suffragists when the woman Roosevelt called "the first woman of America" made her declaration for the woman vote.

The real patriot is the fellow who thinks that his one vote is going to decide the election.

SHERIFF HERE TO TAKE ROBBER BACK

Sheriff John Reid, Boone, Iowa, is in La Crosse today to take Roy Hill, alias Meyers, back to that city for alleged participation in a big silk robbery.

Hill was arrested here by Captain Larry Dugan as he was about to enter the home of his sweetheart.

ENVOYS WILL NOT INCLUDE REBELS

U. S. Will Not Countenance Approval of Contracts and Concessions of Dictator

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 11.—After an extended conference among the mediators, it was learned this afternoon that the A. B. C. envoys have again decided to treat the matter of constitutional representation in the mediation conferences as a closed incident.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Although unconfirmed by official dispatches, the constitutionalist junta today claimed to have a message stating that the Ward liner Antilla had docked early today at Tampico, without interference from Mexican federal gunboats or the American navy, and that the 15,000,000 rounds of ammunition she carried is now in the hands of Carranza's agents.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The administration, still supremely confident today that a mediation agreement will be signed along the lines it has stood for, will insist that nothing shall be done at Niagara Falls which might give Huerta basis for the claim that his rule as provision president has been O. K.'d by the United States. This was certain from statements of officials today.

The real reason, it was said, is not antipathy to Huerta, but the fact that he entered into certain agreements as provisional president which the United States considers detrimental to Mexico. Contracts have been entered into and concessions granted which Carranza and his cabinet have declared will be set aside as soon as the constitutionalists get into power.

It can be stated upon the authority of Secretary Bryan that at no time has the United States asked that Carranza or anyone close to him be named as provisional president. Carranza will insist on at least veto right over the names to be finally settled.

Stories of an alliance between Villa and Zapata, for "mutual benefit" continue to be circulated here. One report has an agreement between them to prevent their being relegated to oblivion when permanent peace comes and being shut out of any division of the prizes that in the past have followed victory in a revolution.

It is believed that most of these stories are based on an investigation by state department.

Wait for Carranza

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 11.—With the key to the door which may open the way toward peace in Mexico held by General Carranza, first chief of the constitutionalists, the A. B. C. mediators were still fumbling with the latch today, but with little apparent prospect of crossing the threshold without the aid or the approval of the rebel leader.

The United States has declared that it does not expect to enter into an agreement here which the constitutionalists may not accept. Gen. Carranza would not recognize a provisional president who was not of strong constitutionalist sympathies. The American delegates have let it be known that this is the sort of man they expect to see named for the provisional presidency in the peace agreement. They are also prepared to insist upon constitutionalist domination in the provisional cabinet which will share equal responsibility with the president in the conduct of affairs.

A reply from the constitutionalists is still awaited by the mediators.

Surround Rebels ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, OFF MAZATLAN, June 10. — By wireless to San Diego, Cal., June 11.—A constitutionalist force under General Amario is surrounded by federals near Colima. If the rebels are annihilated or captured, as seems probable, Huerta's communication with Manzanillo may be reopened.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Children's day will be observed at the First M. E. church, Eighth and King streets, Sunday morning. An elaborate musical program will be a feature of the services.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE

W. C. T. U. memorial services were held at Oak Grove cemetery on Tuesday afternoon by members of the local organization. About thirty were present and a tribute was paid to the twenty-five deceased members. The services were conducted by Mrs. R. A. Jackson.

ELROY TOLERATES NO RECKLESS AUTOISTS AND GET OFFENDERS

La Crosse might take lessons from Elroy in the handling of reckless autoists. Yesterday morning a party of tourists went through that place at a high rate of speed. Enroute they knocked down a resident. They looked around and saw him in the road—dead for all they knew—and speeded up and out of the city.

Deputy Sheriff George Morgan was put on the trail. He came to La Crosse and notified all cities between here and Elroy to watch for the machine.

The motorists, Chicago people, were arrested at Wilton, and will be taken back to Elroy.

BIG PAGEANT AT PARK TOMORROW

Normal Students Will Present March of the Hours in Myrick Park

Students of the normal school, both in the normal proper and in the training school, will give "The Pageant of the Hours" at Myrick park between the hours of five and six tomorrow. The pageant takes the place of the late exercises which are held every year. The affair promises to be one of the prettiest events ever held in this city, with its dances by the little children attired as fairies, maypole dances and also fancy dances by the normal students and solo dances by members of the class in physical education.

Miss Weimar to Sing Miss Lena Weimar will sing the song of the Sandman who comes during the eleventh hour to put the children to sleep. The normal school band and orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

The people of the city have taken a great deal of interest in the normal fete day exercises in the past, and it seems very likely that a record breaking crowd will attend this year. Twenty of the downtown merchants are closing their stores so that their employees may attend. Many of the normal students and their friends have arranged for picnic suppers to be eaten in the park after the pageant is over. The members of the Eclectic debating society have made arrangements to serve all kinds of refreshments in the park. The proceeds are to be used in defraying the expense incurred by the Platteville debate.

Miss Eustis Works Hard Miss Eustis of the normal school physical training department has been working hard so that this pageant may be a success. She has spared no effort to see that every little detail is complete and the affair promises to be one of the prettiest pageants ever seen here.

Miss Abbie Hawes, one of the normal school seniors, has written a poem descriptive of the pageant, which has been printed on the program. In addition to the pageant the Buskin Dramatic club and the Science club have arranged to present a well worked out pageant on study. Following is the program for the event:

The Program First Hour—The Dance of Dawn—Emma Bjornstad.

Second Hour—Sun passes in chariot; Dance of flowers and sunbeams—Children of 3rd and 4th grades.

Third Hour—Pageant of Toilers and Students.

Fourth Hour—Dumb-bell drill by young men of physical education class.

Fifth Hour—Work Rhythms—Children of 5th and 6th grades.

Sixth Hour—Sun Dance—Grace Hildreth.

Seventh Hour of Torture—Return to work.

Eighth Hour—Rhythms of sports—Children of 7th and 8th grades.

Ninth Hour—May pole dances by children of the training school and country school course.

Tenth Hour—Dance by young men and women of normal school.

Eleventh Hour—Sand Man song to children—Lena Weimar.

Twelfth Hour—Fairies and gnomes dance around sleeping children, children of 1st and 2nd grade; Solo Dance by Night—Marie Hyde.

Recessional. Queen—Grace Hill; Father Time, Mr. Ferguson.

LOCAL ELKS BACK FROM STATE MEET

La Crosse Baseball Team Returns with Loving Cup Presented for Baseball Championship

The La Crosse delegation to the state grand lodge meet of the B. P. O. Elks returned to La Crosse aboard their special car early this morning.

With them they brought a beautiful loving cup presented by the state association for the baseball championship of the state.

The cup was won by the La Crosse boys after defeating Superior and Rhinelander. The last game with Rhinelander was said to be the best of the series of three, and Fiske, on the mound for La Crosse, allowed but two hits.

The box score follows:

The La Crosse Elks were the "big noise" at Wausau throughout the week from the reports from that city. In the parade the local delegation attracted attention and wherever La Crosse went the "gang" followed.

ARISTOCRACY AT MADRID WEDDING

Miss Belle Wyatt Willard and Son of the Colonel Marry in City of Madrid

ARE WED AT MAERID EMBASSY

Princess of Thurn and Tax-is Among the Bridesmaids-at the Ceremony

MADRID, June 11.—With the cream of Spanish aristocracy and officialdom attending, and with practically all members of the diplomatic corps in Madrid present, Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of Joseph E. Willard, American ambassador to the court of Spain, and Kermit Roosevelt, son of former president of the United States, were married here today by church ceremony.

Today's ceremony was performed at noon in the British embassy chapel. The two were joined by civil ceremony yesterday in the offices of a city official.

The Rev. Dr. Watson, rector of the American church in Paris officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. Herbert Brown, chaplain of the British embassy in Madrid.

Miss Elizabeth Willard attended her sister, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Her Serene Highness, the Princess Folla of Thurn and Taxis, daughter of Prince Ratibor, the German ambassador to Alphonso's court; Miss Katherine Page daughter of the American ambassador to the court of St. James; Mlle. Gilone LeVeure de Taxillieres, of Paris, and Miss Virginia Christian, of Richmond, Va.

The couple plan to leave for Brazil to establish their home at San Paulo, where young Roosevelt is in the railroad business, after a brief honeymoon on the continent.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin and tulle, made with court train, decorated with orange blossoms and draped with rich old lace. Her long veil was of tulle and lace.

Rain fell steadily most of the day, but it did not mar the brilliance of the wedding. All of fashionable Madrid, including the premier, foreign minister, and the entire diplomatic corps attended the wedding breakfast.

The couple departed tonight for Andalusia. Col. Roosevelt left for Paris.

PIONEER VIOLINIST MOLLENHAUER DIES

Musician and Composer Who Gave Concert in La Crosse Dead at Owatonna

(By Isador Tippmann.) Edward Mollenhauer, who will be pleasantly remembered by some of our music loving people from the concert given at the normal school hall by the "Three Generations Mollenhauers" about a year ago, died on May 5, in the city hospital of Owatonna, Minn., at the age of nearly 88 years.

Mr. Mollenhauer was one of the musical pioneers in America, having emigrated with his two brothers from Europe in 1856, after winning fame as a concert violinist in the musical centers of the old world.

Mr. Mollenhauer's playing was characterized by a smooth singing tone of wonderful purity, the opposite of that wabbling tone, which the younger generation of violin players obtain by the excessive employment of the so-called vibrato or tremolo, which is after all only a deviation from true pitch and which impresses every true musical ear as inartistic and unmusical. It is the effort of musical machines, who pretend to be singers and violinists, to hide their barren unmusical natures.

Mr. Mollenhauer was quite a prolific composer of violin music and his creations, which consisted mostly of violin solos, duos and trios, show their creator to be possessed of true musical sentiment and an intimate knowledge of the true mission of the violin.

K. P. WILL GIVE TWO EXCURSIONS

Two excursions of the Knights of Pythias will be given tomorrow on the steamer G. W. Hill, one of the fastest and most commodious boats on the river. The day excursion will leave La Crosse at 11 o'clock for Winona, returning at 7 o'clock in the evening. The excursions given by the Knights of Pythias invariably prove successes. Dancing will be held on the boat, under strict supervision of those in charge. Good music will be provided for the trip, which will be one of the best of the year.

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincerest appreciation to all friends who so kindly assisted us during the recent illness and death of our beloved daughter and sister.

COULON WILL COME BACK
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 11.—
Forty miles away from the wall-pat that sent him into dreamland, Johnny Coulon, erstwhile bantam king, changed his mind today and decided he would fight his way back to the title, snapped away Tuesday night by Kid Williams of Baltimore.

"Now I am going to do what I should have done before I met Williams—take on two or three rough boys and get in condition," said the Chicano. "When I regain my old condition I'll take another chance at Williams."

TILLMAN AND BROWN CLASH

HUDSON, Wis., June 11.—(Special.)—Johnny Tillman of Minneapolis, who some time ago got the best of Ad Wolgast in a bout at Hudson, and Pal Brown of Hibbing, Minn., will clash in a scheduled ten-round battle at the Hudson arena next Monday night. The boys will weigh in at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock. The outcome of the battle will, it is conceded, have an important bearing on the lightweight title.

In a semi-final, Billy Whalen and Johnny Sokol of St. Paul, will meet in a ten round go.

Two other bouts of eight and six rounds have been scheduled between Leo Guertin and Joe Scanlon of St.
Paul and Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul and Cyclone Smith of Phalon Park, Minn.

Must Experiment a Little First.

We were all meant to love one another. But not the same way. If we find we can't love a man and be where he is, we should keep away from him.

CHAMBERS DEFEATS LEGG

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 11.—
W. N. Chambers of Omaha defeated
Harry W. Legg, four times champion, in the second round of championship play at Evanston in the trans-Mississippi tournament yesterday afternoon. Legg was beaten by two accurate long putts which Chambers made at a critical point in the game at the fourteenth and fifteenth holes. The excellent form in which Chambers played at this point seemed to take Legg's nerve. Six is bogey for the fourteenth, Chambers made it in four; four is bogey for fifteen and Chambers made it in three.

The pairings for third round championship today: W. N. Chambers, Omaha, vs. M. A. McLoughlin, Denver.

J. L. Carleton, St. Louis, vs. S. E.
Edmunds, St. Louis.

J. D. Cady, Rock Island, vs. F. M.
Rhodes, Blue Hills.

J. W. S. Rhea, Memphis, vs. E. R.
Morrison, Kansas City.

Many jolly good fellows are nothing else.

HEDGES TRACK CAPTAIN

Members of the varsity track team
Tuesday chose Robert Hedges as 1915 captain over Barney Knudsen by a margin of one vote. Hedges had eight ballots when the result was announced. He is a member of the Badger relay team.

Coach Jones has announced the men he will take to the A. A. U.
meet in Dayton, Ohio. Allie Mucks will leave the weights, Phil Stiles will broad jump, Perry is entered in the two mile and Knudsen and Hedges in the sprints. A combination relay team, from the varsity and freshmen teams, will run this event. The men will probably be Basset, Williams, Matthews, Burke or Smith.

HAYES VS. ATTELL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 11.— Chick Hayes, Hoosier bantam, announced today through his manager, Barry Farris, that he had signed papers to fight Abe Attehl, former featherweight champion, at Evansville, July 4.

WAGNER NEARING
NEW HIT RECORD

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 11.—
With 3,000 hits in 17 years officially marked to his credit yesterday, Hans Wagner, premier shortstop of the National league and leading batsman of the Pirates, needs but 48 safe sacrifice hits to pass the great record of Pop Anson, one time star of the White Sox.

Anson made 3,047 hits in 22 years,
a world's record, Wagner has made 3,000 hits in 17 years and two months.

It is freely said by sporting writers that a record of 3,000 hits—a conservative estimate of what Ho-nus will reach this season—may stand forever as an 18 years batting record.

VARSITY CREW TO LEAVE FOR EAST

Coach Vail Predicts Victory for Varsity Shell; Not Optimistic Over Chances of Freshmen Boat

Accompanied by the cheers of over half the students in the university the varsity and freshman crews Tuesday night boarded their train for Poughkeepsie, the scene of the big rowing regatta this month. The athletes retired early, although the train did not pull out until 3:30 yesterday morning.

Speeches were made at the station by Coach "Dad" Vail, Coxswain John Brown and Carl Schroeder and Bohstedt of the varsity crew, and Mitchell, Webster, Albright and Cummings, the latter coxswain of the freshman shell. Ken Layman, varsity cheer leader, also made a speech on "rooting." Coach Vail declared this year's crew was the best he had ever turned out at Wisconsin. He said he expected them to end ahead or near the top. He was not so optimistic about the freshman boat. Hard luck had wrecked its chances of getting a first he said.

The Badger delegation reached Poughkeepsie today and went into its own camp on the Hudson river.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. Agent Chas. A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

CHEAPE INSPIRES BETTING

NEW YORK, June 11.—Backers of the British international polo four who have been saving their money despite 10 to 7 odds for the series which began Saturday, today plucked up heart through the reappearance of Captain Leslie Cheape in the field. Cheape, whose injury at the hands of H. C. Phipps caused postponement of Tuesday's game, today was scheduled to play four chukkers in the final workout of the British team.

In the American four's final practice, reports that Devereaux Milburn, No. 3, had suffered a broken rib in practice were discredited. Milburn playing a dashing game. Rene La Montagne and Monte Waterbury seemed off form.

ACCOUNTANTS MEET IN ANNUAL SESSION

MILWAUKEE, June 11.—Adding machines of all descriptions buzzed and clicked in hotel lobbies here today as they were put through their paces for the benefit of accountants and controllers who gathered here today for their annual session. Among those who attended the opening meeting were several men with national reputation in their particular line of business.

Mayor G. A. Bading was supposed to welcome the visitors, but since he is still riding through the western states in Milwaukee's booster special, a sub was secured. However, the accountants had little time to waste on anything but absolutely necessary business. A reception was one of their first social affairs. This was held in the Schlitz palm garden. Later in the afternoon they were to visit the brewery which claims to have a part in putting the city on the map.

MRS. BUD FISHER HURT ON JOYRIDE

Wife of Cartoonist Victim of Early Morning Crash in New York Park

NEW YORK, June 11.—Her chest crushed and suffering from internal injuries which are probably fatal, Mrs. "Bud" Fisher, wife of a cartoonist, was in Fordham hospital here today the victim of an early morning auto crash which, it is said, came on a joy ride, when all were merry.

Mrs. Fisher, 23, vivacious and pretty, was Pauline Welch, an actress, before she eloped with Fisher. She was hurt when the car in which she was riding with Lawrence E. Lamb, Miss Fanny Barrows and Harry J. Peisman, was struck and overturned at a dark corner of the Pelham parkway road in New York's suburbs. Harry J. Hafner with his wife were in the car which struck Lamb's machine.

CLARK FIRST TO GET NOMINATION PAPERS

Fred Clark applied to County Clerk Bert Jolivet this morning for nomination papers. Clark is a candidate for sheriff on the democratic ticket, and his papers will be circulated throughout the county at once. All nomination papers must be filed before August 1 with the county clerk.

DENIES EXPO BOYCOTT

EW PORK, June 11.—Derision of reports that opposition to his representing Italy at the Panama Pacific exposition may militate against the attendance of Catholics at the fair was voiced here today by Ernest Nathan, the Jewish ex-mayor of Rome, who sails for Italy on Saturday. Nathan declared reports of any effective boycott on the San Francisco fair were "absurd, ridiculous," and declared his critics were simply trying to use religion as a force in politics.

WANT MORAL SEARCHLIGHT

RACINE, Wis., June 11.—A powerful searchlight upon the municipal bathing beach is the request by the Central association. The organization claims that the present unlighted condition of the territory near the beach is detrimental to the morals of young people.

MELANCHOLY—KILLS SELF

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 11.—Melancholia brought on by the death of her mother was thought to be the motive for the suicide of Miss Mary Schapp, 17, who was found poisoned this morning in the yard back of her home, Blue Mound road.

Made the Bishop Tired.

The bishop of Peterborough, Dr. Magee, being plagued to go and open all sorts of things—churches, school bazaars, etc.—exclaimed one day to the bishop of Leicester, "I do believe very soon there will not be a young curate in the diocese who has bought a new umbrella who will not apply to the bishop to come and open it!"—London Tatler.

Queered.

"I don't seem to be invited to Mrs. Wombat's house parties any more."

"Wonder why?"

"I suspect some of her servants have reported me for unsatisfactory tipping."—Kansas City Journal.

SURROUND 600 FEDERAL TROOPS

FRESNILLO, Zacatecas, Mexico, June 11.—Gen. Panofill Natera, the commander in chief of the constitutionalists in the central military zone, today sent a dispatch to General Francisco Villa saying his troops had surrounded 600 federals at Calera, just outside the city of Zacatecas. He said the federals are completely hemmed in and are being cut to pieces.

ATTACKS SOCIALISM

RACINE, Wis., June 11.—The Rev. J. C. Rockey of Minneapolis, speaking before the convention of English Lutheran churches of the synod of the northwest, which is in session here, attacked socialism Wednesday evening as a doctrine of atheism, and declared that a man could not be a Christian and a socialist at the same time.

This Way to the Tyrant.

Johnny was beginning to read. He ran to his father with a story book in his hand.

"Daddy," he asked, not knowing of a recent conubial argument, "what is an unreasonable tyrant?"

"Boy," said his father severely, "you'll go to bed for the day if you say another word against your mother."

Woman's Home Companion.

A Substitute.

"Have you a stove lighter I could borrow?" asked the woman who had just moved in.

"No, but my husband is a piano mover," suggested the woman next door.—Philadelphia Record.

MANY ATTENDED THE EXERCISES

Prairie du Chien School Has Commencement at Opera House; Other Snappy News

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., June 11.—Monday evening the commencement exercises of the Prairie du Chien high school were held in the Metropolitan Opera house. Notwithstanding the intense heat a large audience was in attendance to enjoy the clever address given by Paul F. Walker of the University of Wisconsin and the delightful program given by the graduating class and the high school Glee club. The program was as follows:

To Help Nature Shed a Bad Complexion

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the beautifying qualities of mercolized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm, at such small expense. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding complexion defects, it removes them. It actually takes off the aged, faded, sallow, freckled or blotchy outside, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience. It is Nature's way of renewing complexion. When the natural process is retarded because of deficient circulation or nerve tone, mercolized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drugstore, use at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled skin—is to bathe the face in lotion made by dissolving an ounce of axelite in a half-pint witch hazel. This is remarkably and instantaneously effective.

Music—Orchestra.
Invocation—The Rev. I. F. Nuzum.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

WANTS HOME FOR AMERICAN LEPERS

Representative Johnson.

Representative Johnson of Washington has introduced a bill in the lower house of congress to authorize the surgeon general of the public health service to select an island in any insular territory possession for use as a national leper home, appropriating $100,000. The presence in Washington of John Early, the alleged leper, was the immediate cause of the introduction of the bill.

Shameful Omission.
Amid all the humane enterprises of this wonderful century there has been no society yet formed for the protection of young men from young women. —From "One Man Returns," by Harold Spender.

HATTON DEPLORES LATE CANDIDATES

Asks that Public Take Greater Interest in Men Who Are Running for State Offices

MADISON, Wis., June 11. — Late candidates for public office and popular indifference toward qualifications of candidates were deplored by William H. Hatton, republican candidate for governor, in an interview here. He believes men who run for office should announce themselves early, and that the public should not suffer untried and unworthy men to enter the field without any protest, as is too often the case.

Asks Personal Interest
"The community should not wait for men to run for office, but should draft strong men into the public service," he said. "It has grown a custom to accept most any man who puts himself into the field. The people generally wait until some man announces himself as a candidate. Instead, the public should take a personal interest in its representation at the seat of government. Groups of men interested at heart in the welfare of the state should seek out good men and urge them to stand for public office. It's a big job for a big man, this matter of representing a community in a legislature, and every man should be willing to sacrifice his own affairs for the community good. They should have meetings in their halls and schoolhouses and discuss men and measures, then go out and urge public spirited men to lay aside their private affairs for a time and go as their representatives. This is the highest honor for service—to represent a community of Wisconsin in its law making body."

Now Time to Act
"The legislature makes appropriations. They are passed by both houses. The money belongs to the people. No more important service can be rendered to the public than for men of capacity and vision to work for the public welfare in places of public trust like membership in senate or assembly."

"This matter should be considered and acted upon now, that the combined wisdom of the community may be centered on the coming candidates, to the end that we have a very strong body of men to deal with state problems."

Pitt as a Talker.
Who set the fashion in the house of commons of long speeches? It was the elder Pitt, of whom Lord Brougham said: "He was prolix in the whole texture of his discourse, and he was certainly the first who introduced into our senate the practice, adopted in the American war by Mr. Burke and continued by others, of long speeches—speeches of two and three hours—by which oratory has gained little and business less." Pitt's ability amounted to a vice. He himself confessed that he did not like to take part in a debate when he had an important state secret on his mind, "for when once I am up everything that is in my mind must come out."—London Spectator.

Revenge of an Eagle.
This may seem a wildly impossible story, even in the annals of the royal and ancient game, but golfers will be golfers, you know, says the London Citizen in telling it. He said he drove hard and so high that a lady eagle who was winging her way over the course received a little white ball smack on the side of her head. The ball dropped about seventeen inches from the hole the golfer was playing for. Meantime the eagle paused in her flight and, after circling round a few times in a considering mood, swooped down and deposited an egg between the hole and the golf ball. In revenge she had laid the golfer a stymie!

Amiable.
"They say Thelma's husband is a very amiable man."
"Amiable! I should say so! I have known that man to laugh at a joke when he was taking down the stove-pipe."—Baltimore American.

Nautically speaking a man goes to extremes when he is both stern and proud.

WITNESS AFTER WITNESS IN LA CROSSE

Such Evidence Our Readers Cannot Dispute
As we take up the Tribune week by week, we are struck by the hearty, unmistakable way in which witness after witness speaks out as Mr. Brown does here. If these people were strangers living miles away, we might take little notice of them. But they are not. They are our neighbors, living among us. Their word is too easily proven to admit of any doubt. They speak out in the hope that their experience may be a guide to others.

L. L. Brown, 403 S. Eighth St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have found them to be just as represented. I suffered from a lame back for quite a while. I had a constant, dull ache across my loins and rubbing with liniments didn't help me. I made inquiries about a kidney medicine and a druggist recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I got some and they cured me completely. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills before and I am glad to do so again. They are reliable and have my highest endorsement."

SAYS MISSIONARIES ARE NOT MORAL

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 11.—In a bitter attack on what she termed was immoral conduct upon the part of missionaries and others sent to the Orient on a mission of humanity, Laura D. Garst, dean of the College of Missions of Indianapolis, told the convention of the Arkansas Christian churches today that the missionary work in that country was a failure. Her denunciation of foreign college professors employed in the Orient for alleged immoral association with Oriental women threw the convention into an uproar.

CAN'T VOTE FOR SENATOR

CHICAGO, June 11.—Women are denied the right to vote for United States senator, in an opinion being prepared for the county election board today by Attorney Charles H. Mitchell. The opinion holds that the election board cannot assume legislative powers and broaden the act of the Illinois legislature, which gave women the right to vote for presidential electors and for municipal officers.

Drug Clerk Tells How To Cure Indigestion

Recommends to Sufferers the Best Stomach Remedy in La Crosse Today

"It is a wonder some of us have stomachs left," remarked a well known drug clerk recently. "While all drug stores sell a score or more of stomach remedies for which there is a wide demand, most of them are just pepsin pills which aids digestion of the food that is in the stomach at the present time. They have no curative or strengthening effect on the stomach at all, and of course do not reach or cure the cause. So the same people keep on coming here and buying and using them until they are real chronic dyspeptics, when anyone really asks my advice, I swear by and recommend ordinary bisurated magnesia, which doesn't digest the food at all but acts as an anti-acid and sweetens the sour, fermenting contents of the stomach. That stops the pain, heart-burn, sour rising, wind, bloating, fullness, etc., in just a few minutes, and the stomach digests its food without help of trouble, which is the proper way."

"Doctors make mistakes sometimes, too," he continued. "My own aunt had all kinds of trouble with her stomach for years. She bought and used several styles of digestive pills but got worse right along, as naturally she would. Finally she went to a doctor, who nearly scared her to death by telling her she had cancer of the stomach. She came to me with his prescription and told me what he said. I thought it was nonsense. I sent her to another doctor whom I knew very well and he didn't tell her anything, but just gave her this same thing, bisurated magnesia. She took it two weeks and never had any stomach trouble since and that's three years ago. She's my own aunt and I know this for a fact. Yes, a lot of bisurated magnesia is sold in La Crosse. All the druggists have it, I suppose, and all you take is a teaspoonful after every meal. It's all right."

RESOLUTE BEATS VANITIE

NAVESINK, N. J., June 11.—Resolute won today from the Vanitie in the fifth of the preliminary yacht races which may determine the American cup defender. Her unofficial time for the 30 mile course was 2:33:07. The Defiance retired from the race in the first round, being unable to set her club sail.

Test for Seeds.

Seeds not sufficiently ripe will float in water, but when arrived at full maturity they will sink to the bottom, and this is proof that they are good to plant.
